Trial

COURT DECISION
VITAL TO TRIAL

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The most important step in the whole trial of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop for the murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, on an operating table in her doctor's office last November, will be taken within the first half hour of the opening session Monday it was revealed today.

Defense attorneys will ask to have the confession the 62 year old physician made to police and then repudiated suppressed at the trial, they announced. That means—

If Judge Joseph B. David grants the motion, the props will have been knocked from under the state's case. If he denies it, the defense will have a lengthy, arduous task to prove the document was obtained under duress and that its specific information was false.

Repudiated Confession

In that confession, cautiously worded at the end of three days of questioning by police, Dr. Wynekoop told how the wife of her favorite son, Earle, had died from an overdose of chloroform during a physical examination, and how her mother-in-law fired a shot into her back to ease the situation.

When she repudiated the confession, the doctor said it had not been obtained by force but had been signed because she "thought it proper."

"I would have stood by it, too," said the strange old woman, who thought and still thinks her span of life is short. "If I had not felt anxious."

PA NEW C OBSERVES

George T. Jones, well known Pennsylvania Railroad engineer is in receipt of a copy of the London Daily Herald which carries a detailed account of the French railway accident in which the Paris-Strasbourg express crashed into a train at Laguy France. A full page of pictures shows the gruesome scenes as rescuers searched wreckage for victims, while the front page carries a story to the effect that the French people will insist upon steel coaches and automatic stop devices for trains in the future.

Today cannot close to being Friday the 13th, only it was Saturday. These alleged unlucky days will occur twice this year, in April and July.

A new American flag fluttered above the post office again today—Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen was right when he said the winter weather here is hard on flags. It wasn't so long ago that the old one was first flown.

Because he had a plank, a little boy on Jefferson street was very popular with adults who wished to cross the puddles without getting their feet wet, this morning. He obligingly laid his plank from the curb to street, bridging a large puddle of water. Should have charged toll.

Motorists Who Pass Street Cars On Left Get Police Summons

Sometime next week perhaps two score motorists who have passed to the left of street cars while they were discharging passengers will receive notice that they are under arrest and will have to appear at the city police station, it was learned today, and according to Chief of Police John Haven "no excuses will be accepted." The fine for this offense is $3.00, it is said.

During the past week police in plainclothes have been riding the end of street cars on the North Hill and East Side routes and watching for motorists who failed to stop when street cars took on or discharged passengers. The autos that did not stop and passed on the left side were seen, numbers taken and soon they will receive a summons to visit the police station.

Van Dyke May Be Candidate For Governor

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—Warren Van Dyke, Democratic state chairman, today had the endorsement of Joseph F. Guffey, leader of Pennsylvania's Roosevelt forces, as the party's candidate for governor in the elections next November.

Guffey went further than merely endorsing Van Dyke. He predicted that Van Dyke will be the next governor of the state.

Since Guffey and Van Dyke are the two outstanding Democratic leaders in Pennsylvania, political observers regarded Guffey's statement as rendering virtually certain the choice of Van Dyke as the gubernatorial candidate.

The Democratic state committee will convene at Harrisburg on February 10 to recommend candidates for the forthcoming elections. Van Dyke, it was predicted, will receive the gubernatorial recommendation.

Guffey refused to comment on a report that he may run for United States senator. He forecast that the Democrats will elect in November a United States senator, 24 congressmen and a majority of the legislature, as well as a governor.

YOUTH TELLS WHY HE SHOT HIS GIRL

Slain

ROSE BALOGH

John Mozesz, 23, who fatally wounded Rose Balogh, 19, and then shot himself in the left side Friday night on East Long avenue, made the following statement this morning in the New Castle hospital, to a New Castle News reporter, concerning the tragedy which brought to a close the short romance between the two:

"I met Rose at Belmont avenue near the St. Andrews church and stopped her. I asked her if she would not go with me. She refused, and I asked her to marry me. She then refused to speak and I pulled the gun on her."

"I just tried to frighten her and the gun went off. I did not mean to shoot her. I got scared and shot myself and laid down beside her. I got up and tried to find the gun, but I could not and I started for the police station. I could not make it. I was picked up and taken to the hospital."

"I shot her because I love her," the young man who is 6 feet one inch tall and who came to this country from Hungary about five years ago, he said. He was born in New Castle, but at an early age in life moved to Hungary. He said he met the girl in church, six weeks ago.

He continued by telling the reporter to "put the piece nice in the paper. I hope she will soon so we can be married. She can't have nobody else, just John and Rose". Police officials had not told him that the girl was dead.

"How do you feel this morning," the reporter asked. "On my right side I feel good but my left side hurts terrible," he said. He asked the reporter how the young girl was this morning, and if he thought she would get better.

"The reporter left, Mozesz asked him for a comb. I want to look nice when my girl Rose comes up to see me," he stated. For a youth who has been in this country but five years, Mozesz speaks English fairly well. He stated he lived at 16 East Reynolds street.

Patrol Continue Investigation
In Crocker Death

No clues have been found by Coroner Orville Potter and Highway Patrolman Sarko, who are investigating the death of George Crocker, 78-year-old resident of the Pulaski road, whose battered body was found along the Pulaski road a half mile from the intersection with the Wilmington road, Thursday evening.

The authorities visited the spot where Crocker's body was found by Tony Frank, a neighbor, on Friday, but found nothing which would give them a clue to the driver of the car which ran the old man down.

Crocker was an old-time resident of the county and was well educated. Friends assert.

Funeral services will take place Monday afternoon at 2-30 from the King's Chapel church, Pulaski road. Burial will follow in the King's Chapel cemetery.

Crocker's body may be viewed by friends at the Book-Leyde mortuary, Neshannock avenue.

Pilot Lands His Plane In Fog At Pittsburgh Port

Signal Flares Enable Pilot To Land Plane Bearing Rela-

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—Signal flares sent up from an airport today enabled the pilot of a plane carrying a brother-in-law of Mayor William N. McNair to land the ship safely after it flew aimlessly about in a fog for two and one-half hours.

Lieut. W. D. Coursey of the Mid-dletown air supply depot brought the plane and his passenger, Adam J. Countryman, McNair's brother-in-law, down safely shortly after dark.

Coursey, flying here from Middletown, was unable to find the field during two and a half hours of circling over the city. Lieut. Corley Mc-Darmont and others at the airport discharged some pistol lights left over from the world war to show him the location of the airport.

MOZESZ TRIES TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Crime Occurs When Girl Repulses Suitor—Mozesz
In Hospital

Unrequited love, on Friday evening, caused John Mozesz, who came here from Pittsburg, Calif., to fatally wound pretty Rose Balogh, 19, of 601 East Long avenue and turn the .38 calibre revolver on himself. He is in the New Castle hospital and will recover. The slaying and attempted self destruction occurred at 6:40 p. m. in East Long avenue between Belmont and Cunningham avenues.

The girl had completed her duties at a Long avenue store and walked with her employer, Sam Taylor, to Hamilton street. She continued toward her home. When she reached Belmont avenue she was accosted by Mozesz. They talked a few moments then continued walking toward the young lady's home.

Girl Is Shot

He is said to have asked the girl to marry him. When she failed to answer he pulled out a revolver and fired a bullet through the left side of her chest near her heart. She fell to the sidewalk. Mozesz then fired a glancing bullet through his left chest. It left his body and lodged in his left arm.

The slayer and would-be-suicide then lay down alongside the mortal-ly wounded girl but got up, threw away the gun and started from the scene. No one actually witnessed the shooting but some persons evidently heard the shots.

Walter Mozesz and Tony Isaacs who were riding in a truck hurried to the girl to the hospital where she died five minutes after being admitted. In the meantime Ernie Natale and Tony Orr who were in the vicinity called police.

Slayer In Flight

Mozesz continued in his flight to 514 East Lutton street where he saw an auto. He asked some small boys who owned the car. He told William De Carbo of that address that a man wanted to know who owned the car. De Carbo left the house and went to the man.

Mozesz told De Carbo he had shot a girl and had also shot himself and asked De Carbo to take him to a hospital which De Carbo did. As Mozesz entered the vestibule of the New Castle hospital he encountered Police Lieutenant Criswell and asked:

"Are you the law?"

"Yes," replied Criswell.

"Arrest me. I shot a girl," he is alleged to have said to Criswell and also Patrolmen Hillers and Thomas who were on the murder case.

They apprised him of his legal rights before he was further questioned. He told them approximately where he had hid himself of the gun. It was found by Patrolmen Thomas and Hillers.

Placed Under Guard

He was not told that the girl had missed so far it may be with us yet, the thaw that January brings nor does it oft forget. When brooklets swell to raging streams and rivers jump their banks, and cellars fill up to the brim and look like water tanks. For January always brings a thaw that soaks us through, today it looks as though there here, it's wet and forty two. And rivers creep up inch by inch and brooklets start to rise, oh January's quite a month, it's just but not so wise.

WATERWAY TREATY OPPOSITION GROWS

President Faces Defeat In Senate

News Service Poll Reveals 38 Senators Opposed To Ratification

RESUME DEBATE ON MEASURE MONDAY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—President Roosevelt faced the first major defeat of his administration as opposition grew to ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

An impartial International News Service poll revealed at least 38 senators were ready to vote against ratification. Only 32 votes would be necessary to defeat it, since ratification requires a two-thirds majority of the senate.

Resume Debate Monday.

Debate on the project will be resumed Monday, as the senate recessed over the week-end. In its early stages, the debate revealed the treaty has divided the nation into sections, a majority of senators being influenced by the manner in which they expect the treaty to affect their home localities. This development was without precedent in recent years.

The administration also faced a showdown early next week on the Johnson resolution, outlawing loans to and sales of bonds for any foreign government defaulting on either public or private debts to the American government or American citizens. A long list of European and South American countries would be affected.

Roosevelt Opposed.

The resolution passed the senate Thursday by its transmission to the house was blocked by Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader, who served notice of a motion to reconsider. Robinson based his action on a belief the resolution would prevent holders of defaulted bonds from selling their securities. Johnson explained the measure did not affect this class, but Robinson refused to release the bill.

Rumors prevailed that Mr. Roosevelt opposed a passage of the bill for fear it would disrupt his program for reciprocal trade agreements with some of the defaulting governments. Johnson meanwhile announced he would welcome a contest on this issue. He said he expected definite action early next week.

He died immediately after his entry in the hospital Lieutenant Criswell assigned Patrolman Alliger to keep vigil over him. A police guard is also maintained at his bed today.

According to the police, Meozess came here some months ago from Pittsburgh, Calif., secured employment in a local mill, and has been living at 16 East Reynolds street. He met the victim of his unrequited love in church and, on his part, it was a case of love at first sight. At different times he asked her to marry him, it is said.

Shortly after the crime had been committed District Attorney Mont Alley and Lawrence County Detective A. S. Leslie visited the police station and secured the facts in the case.

This morning Meozess was charged with murder before Alderman Ewing by Chief of Police John Haven.

Heard Shots

Ern's Natale, of East Long street, and Tony Orr, of East Long avenue were walking up East Long avenue about 6:45 o'clock. They had hardly passed Belmont avenue when they heard someone yell, "There he goes. She's shot!" Mr. Natale left the scene to call the police. In the meantime, Walter West and Tony Isaac were riding down East Long avenue from Arlington avenue, in a truck.

They stopped and Mr. Isaac, picked up the girl in his arms and asked her a few questions. "She just gasped," Mr. Isaac stated. They immediately placed her in the back of the truck and took her to the New Castle hospital. She died a few minutes after she was taken to the hospital. An X-ray was taken and it was discovered that the bullet had killed Miss Balogh, penetrated her chest and lung, punched the spine.

According to the four young men who were at the scene shortly after the occurrence, the young girl was shot while between Belmont and Cunningham avenue on East Long avenue about 6:42 p. m. She was lying on the right side of her body and was bleeding when they found her.

After Meozess was brought to the hospital by two young men who found him on East Lutton street, an operation was performed and the bullet removed.

The bullet was a .38 short.

Tell Of Romance

Late last night a member of the Balogh family, sadly related the short romance between his sister, Rose and John Meozess.

Four months ago, Meozess saw the girl for the first time in a Hungarian church on East Reynolds street. He fell in love with the girl the first time he saw her, close friends of Meozess stated. Whenever he went out with his friends, he always talked about the Balogh girl, who was beautiful as well as refined.

He visited the girl's home on 601 East Long avenue only a few times. He declared his love for the girl several times it is said. She thought well of him as a friend but did not love him, her brother said.

In the past three months Meozess had dogged her steps at every turn. A week ago she confided to her brother, Peter, that he was the "black cat" in her life. To a neighbor, Mrs. Frank Conicillo, she said that she was afraid of Meozess. That he had a mean temper and that she was mortally afraid that he would do her harm. Nothing she could say to him convinced him that his attentions were unwanted; nothing she did could cool the ardor of the gun-toting swain, and Friday night, in full view of her home, with parents and brothers and sisters waiting dinner for her, the love-maddened Meozess shot her down on East Long avenue.

Establish Threats

County Detective A. Sharp Leslie today uncovered an element needed for a first degree murder charge, alleged malice.

Within three days Meozess told his rooming house keeper, Mrs. Katherine Cifo, of 16 East Reynolds street, that if he couldn't marry Rose, nobody else would. In addition Mr. Leslie has two letters written by Meozess to Rose Balogh in which he threatens her if she did not marry him. Mr. Cifo, wife of John Cifo, told her story to Mr. Leslie today.

"John Meozess had been back here about four months and I gave him a room in my home. I never saw him with Rose Balogh, but I knew he was crazy about her. Many times he told me that he wanted to marry her. Last Wednesday he went to McKeesport and did not come back until Thursday. He said he wanted to get a job some other place and forget her."

Thursday afternoon about one o'clock I talked to him and he said he had been in McKeesport, but had stayed in Pittsburgh Wednesday night.

Going to See Rose

He told me he was going to see Rose and Mrs. Balogh once more again and see if he couldn't change

Appeal From Auditor's Report Showing Poor Board Salaries Paid Is Filed

S. R. Huey of Neshannock township, in behalf of himself and other taxpayers, has filed at the prothonotary's office an appeal from the report of County Controller, R. C. McCaslin, for 1932, in which objection is raised to $400 each paid A. E. Conner, P. O. Elder and F. R. Woods for acting as directors of the poor, in addition to their salaries of $3000 as county commissioners.

It is asked that the commissioners be surcharged with the amounts paid them on the grounds that they were not entitled to it under a recent act. The commissioners had been paid $600 under an old law for their services in acting as a poor board. After the new law went into effect it was claimed that they were no longer entitled to this amount.

An appeal was filed for the amounts alleged to have been overpaid the commissioners serving in 1931. From the time this appeal was filed the county commissioners ceased to draw the additional compensations, and when the court handed down its opinion the appeal was sustained and the commissioners were directed to pay back the money collected for 1931.

The present appeal is based on the amounts which had been paid them before the former suit was filed. The appeal asked that a citation be directed against the present commissioners. When informed of it they all accepted service without further formality.

Explanation Of Writ Of Replevin For Furniture

In the case of Mary E. Bradford against D. Roy Bradford over the ownership of some furniture, there appears to be a misunderstanding as to who had issued the replevin writ. The writ was originally issued by Mrs. Bradford. After the property had been in the possession of the sheriff for 72 hours, the Keystone Furniture Company, issued an intervening writ and became a party defendant in the case. As the report was published it appeared that the Keystone Furniture Company had issued the original writ, which was wrong. Under the verdict the furniture was awarded to Mrs. Bradford.

Following the dinner at 6:30, Vice President J. W. Barnes occupied the chair, as President Chambers had to leave the meeting early.

Earl McKnight, president of the Lawrence County Tire and Petroleum dealers; Jack Wimer, code administrator for Lawrence County for the tire and petroleum industry; William Falls, president of the Independent Businessmen's Association, and Henry Rogers from the same organization; J. E. Elliott, Mr. Letty, Mr. Cox, and Mr. Covert, representing the jobbers in New Castle, were guests of the association.

Each of these various organizations have separate codes and these were discussed along with their connection with the auto dealers code.

At the joint meeting of the various organizations, the entire membership of each will attend.

other bar of justice must be faced, going through no criminal court at all."

The mystery of that confession and its repudiation is the tightest knot in the baffling murder drama to be enacted here next week.

Everything Rests On Decision

Attorneys for both sides know that everything rests on the court's acceptance of it.

That is why W. W. Smith, chief defense counsel, is ready to fling down the gauntlet at the outset, before prosecutor Charles S. Dougherty is permitted to mention the document in his opening.

Sitting up in bed in her cell in the Cook county prison which Dr. Wynekoop, once one of the most respected feminine-medicine men in Chicago, calls "home" these days, the accused murderess goes over the case in her mind. She has the searching, logical mind of a doctor, that just probe every detail, even as do her attorneys.

The prosecution, on the other hand, must prove that the motives for the crime were sufficiently strong to make a woman of education, culture, brains and religious training commit a cold-blooded crime. The motives on which they pin their case are the mother's unnatural great sympathy for her son in his unhappiness with his wife, and a pressing need for $10,000 at a time when the family's real estate holdings were not negotiable.

Police at 5:30 a. m. today were notified by a Mr. Solomon of an aged man lying along the Big Run creek. The police went there and found a man named Parr, aged 72, whom they took to his home at 528 Electric street.

THE ONLY WAY TO FIGHT CRIME

NOTHING could sound better than the plea of Attorney General Cummings for a nation-wide campaign against crime. Everybody—or at least every decent citizen—is opposed to crime. Nearly all are like Mr. Coolidge's minister who went on record as being "against sin." That is fine, but it is not enough. The way to get rid of crime is not to talk about what should be done, but to do it.

In this connection it is only fair to say that the federal government is doing well in certain fields. For instance, the division of investigation, under J. Edgar Hoover, has solved every one of the twenty kidnappings reported since last March. It is highly gratifying to know that not a single failure has been recorded in abduction cases. Sentences imposed include one death penalty, ten life imprisonments and others in accordance with the circumstances and the character of the offense.

These results have been won because the government and those with whom it worked were in deadly earnest. But the methods which have been used so successfully with the kidnappers should be extended to cover all classes of crime. That is why co-ordination is vital between city, state and nation.

Essays on crime do not disturb the lawbreaker in the least. Speeches and theories about it leave him cold. The one thing that fills him with terror is to feel a heavy hand on his shoulder and hear the voice of the law exclaiming: "You are my prisoner!"

SOME WORK LONG HOURS

The universal reign of short hours has not yet begun, in fact the truth is being borne home to many persons that to get anywhere they will need to work just as long as ever they did. The short week for labor, admirable as it is for spreading work, will do little more than hold body and soul together. If the employed person is to make substantial money or better his lot, study and enterprise outside of regular employed hours will be necessary.

Doctors, lawyers, teachers, ministers, newspapermen, farmers, housewives and all that greatly increased group called, for lack of a better name "executives" are working amazingly long days, if their employed time were all calculated.

Physicians, in many cases, begin their work at dawn and conclude it with the last phone call near midnight, if indeed they do not have to arise in the night and make a call. Attorneys often take their work home with them and work far into the night. Teachers are busier evenings than at any other time. And look at the farmer.

A wholly exaggerated notion of short hours is held in some quarters. The idea is unfair to busy people, somewhat successful folk, who would never have got started on a 30-hour week, and who would today consider it little short of permanent retirement were they to cut their employed time to six hours, five days a week.

HUGE MONEY FLOW

Eighteen million dollars a day! This was the approximate rate at which the public works administration passed out the $3,300,000,000 made available to it by congress.

The entire amount has been allotted, and it required only about six months for this to be done.

Although "broke," the administration is not discouraged nor is it inactive. There is more where the $3,300,000,000 came from—the taxpayers. Until congress supplies more, the public works administration will interest itself in trying to speed up the spending of the money it has allotted. Should any of the recipients of this be too dilatory in getting under way the projects such loans were intended to finance, the loans may be withdrawn and placed elsewhere, Secretary Ickes indicated.

Emptying of the public works administration list is a reminder of the huge spending being done by the federal government. When it is remembered that this represents only one of numerous outlets through which money is being poured, a faint idea may be obtained of what the recovery experiment is costing the taxpayers.

That justification will be found in the final results is the hope of every one.

THE NAVY FLIERS SEE THE WORLD

Copyright on mass flight of airplanes no longer is held by Signors Mussolini and Balbo. The dramatic flight of six United States Navy planes from San Francisco to Hawaii in a trifle over twenty-four hours is a brief message to the world, including Japan, that Uncle Sam can get around a bit when he really feels like it.

The hop of the six planes, completed without any untoward incident, was important because it was not suddenly arranged and executed, but a planned maneuver of magnitude, with every mile of the way plotted.

The nation is proud of the navy, its sailors and its airmen.

They execute reckless drivers in Russia. Here we fine them, maybe.

A genius is a man who sits up all night to write an extemporaneous speech.

Familiarity breeds contempt. Perhaps that is why so few hold money in contempt.

What a world! The man who won't take your last cigar feels no compunction about taking your shirt.

There's one thing about the old car. It won't lose half of its value within the next week as a new one would.

Uncle Sam reminded his European defaulting debtors that a total of $107,000,000 was due from them on December 15. As usual it was just a waste of postage.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

DON'T SAY IT
DON'T TELL ME I made that mistake. I know I did. I know it better than anybody in all the world.

I knew it the moment I made it. I knew I knew better, too. . . Of course I knew better. . . We all know better than we do. But we make mistakes, just the same. The mind wanders. The tongue slips. The hand strays. We fall and are humbled, and embarrassed.

But please don't remind me of my silly error. . . What good would it do? . . . Are you reminding me because you want to help, or because you want to make plain your superiority? (I've done that, too. I know why I feel that strong impulse to tell people when they make mistakes.)

If you let me alone, I'll think over that mistake and wonder why I made it and try to do better in the future. . . But if you jump all over me, if you sneer, if you laugh at me, a slow resentment will rise within me and increase and smoulder and I'll try to defend myself and make an excuse for my failure, and after a while I'll even believe that I made no mistake at all—and I'll get nothing out of my failure. . . That's what will happen to me. That's what would happen to you if you failed, and I rushed in and told you just where you were wrong. . . Do you see?

I'm not writing only of myself. I hope I'm writing about everybody.

I'm thinking of the constant criticism of other people that exists nearly everywhere, in offices, in homes. . . I think of many a home where father and mother and the children and the aunts and the uncles sneer at each other and are quick to criticize and object and contradict and make life such a slow misery for each other that nobody is really at home in that house and nobody is happy until he steps out of doors and is in the company of people who do not believe they have the right to criticize everything you do.

Sometimes a mother or a father or a brother or a sister wonders why some member of a family seems so much happier with strangers than with their own family. . . Wonders and is "hurt" and says something about it and makes matters worse by complaining bitterly. . . The answer is simple: There is too much UN-FRIENDLY criticism in that family.

ACCURACY VS. SPEED
Are you tense in your workday efforts?

Do you force yourself with speed towards your main objective?

Just plain thoughtless, heedless speed, full of errors and expended physical effort.

You keep your mind ahead of the action in which you engage and have to trust to mechanical accuracy to perform your work correctly.

Your mind is in a speed whirl and at times you are chagrined at the number of mistakes that creep into your work when quantity output is sought.

Your mind has been active but your nerves are on edge, and that main thought of quantity production ruins everything.

Jobs are not easy to procure and you want to make good for the one who employs you, of course.

You have a reputation for faithful energy and interest in whatever you undertake.

You are given full credit for these virtues even when you are employed but your inaccuracies are working against you.

As nearly as possible, flawless production is desired.

It matters not how much work you turn out if it is not correct and reliable.

THE MOTHERS
They never seem to mind at all

The endless ache of dusting chairs
And making clothes for children small

Or running up and down the stairs.

They wash the dishes thrice a day;
They make the beds and sweep the floors

And from their tasks are called away
To talk with salesmen at the doors.

They launder little garments white
And seldom pause to rest awhile.

Yet when the men come home at night
They greet them with a happy smile.

Not able I to understand,
Who see from man's point of view.

How the sweet mothers of the land
Contrive to do the things they do

So many cares from day to day
Await the mothers, near and far.

I wonder how it is they stay
So brave and patient as they are

Those Vast Expenditures
Emma Goldman's Stuff "Old" Now
Will There Be War?By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

EN ROUTE NEW YORK WEST. Jan. 13.—As one speeds west on an electrified railroad (for 110 miles) at 70 miles an hour, and sees construction jobs under way, there is a thought that the government will make a vastly improved United States. Many businessmen rue these vast expenditures. It is true they constitute inflation.

But, if one sees the greatly improved physical conditions that result, the greater well-being that will accrue, one may well believe, "THIS is the sort of inflation we ought to have."

Granted that graft and misuse could ruin the nation, yet does anyone believe there is any of that now on a large scale? The Roosevelt administration is thoroughly honest. Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, who is public works administrator, is hard-boiled—in the interests of the people.

This is written because some private real estate enterprises in large cities are endeavoring to undermine the government's model housing aims.

Anyone who has seen the slums of a large city—or of a mining community—will realize how millions of government money for model houses will pay dividends many times over. Crime may disappear. A new, higher type of citizenry will rise.

Such public works are not inflation. They are the soundest type of investment, social economists insist. And they're the type President Roosevelt has around him.

EMMA GOLDMAN
Rumors that Emma Goldman, anarchist who was deported in 1919, following two years' imprisonment, had been refused readmission to the United States except on condition she would speak only on literary subjects, seemed to amaze Washington. Officials said they had made no such move.

Miss Goldman, now 64, had arrived in Canada from Europe.

As a matter of fact, eminent citizens had joined in a request that she be permitted to re-enter.

Time changes views. The Emma Goldman views of 1892 and of 1917 are accepted facts now. In 1892 she and Alexander Berkman organized steel workers to strike. Troops and company police put the workers down.

In 1917 Miss Goldman opposed the war. She was imprisoned and deported on a literal prison ship to a country she did not know. Historians now are trying to apologize for that phase of American hysteria.

Where Miss Goldman is feared—or was feared—for her anarchistic views, there now is a more poignant fear: not that rulers or government will perish, but that humanity itself will through poverty, wars, fanaticism.

WAR
From every source I have in foreign lands—and I have many sources—I fear that clashes between nations appear inevitable. I hesitate to say this. Preaching of war often leads to war.

But, in the spring, the Japanese nation, seeking domains for its overflowing millions, will march farther into China—and possibly may reach the Pacific.

On land there is Russia, on the sea there is the United States. If those two nations remain indomitable and honorable, a calamity almost unbelievable may be escaped.

No help can be had from Europe. The nationalistic aims of Germany and of Italy and of France do not bespeak hope.

PROPAGANDA
Americans do not realize how much propaganda is being disseminated in the United States. The Italian fascists are said to be the best organized.

The German Nazis are reputed to have offered one New York advertising firm $50,000 a year to represent it.

FARMERS BUY
Where are the most autos being sold? In the large cities? No. In farm regions where government money has aided the farmer.

ERROR
This writer was in error when he said part of the pay cut of federal employees would be restored immediately. The government evidently feared pay restoration on top of a 10-billion-dollar budget was too much of a strain.

Federal employees in Washington, however, object when it is said the cost of living is down. It is rising, and will rise the more the government spends. That is a concomitant of inflation.

ONE OVER ONE
In Hollywood they tell this story about William Tibbett, famous western sheriff and father of Lawrence Tibbett: A riot broke out in a small town, and the local constable wired Tibbett to send aid. In a short time Tibbett arrived.

"What," said the constable, "just you, only one man?"

"Well," answered Tibbett, "there is only one riot, isn't there?"

CALIFORNIAN ON VIADUCT

Long Beach, Calif.,
January 8, 1934.
Editor New Castle News.

Dear Sir:
After reading in The News some of the comment of the different organizations in regard to building a new Court House and the long-neglected Croton avenue viaduct, I cannot refrain from doing a little commenting myself. As you may remember, it was I who wrote an article which was published in The News some years ago (Yes it is so long ago that I can't remember the year) showing the great need and what a wonderful convenience it would be to the people of the East Side to have a viaduct; and how it would relieve traffic in the downtown district.

That article was responsible for an organization known as the Croton Avenue Viaduct Association. However, it was opposed by certain individuals who influenced the county commissioners to build that "joke" at North street over to Croton avenue.

Had there been an injunction served on the commissioners when they decided to build that bridge, I believe it would have been granted. I have only partly relieved the situation, and only for the time being. We are in need of that viaduct as much as ever, and when would we have a more opportune time to build it. It seems that some of our people don't realize that we depend on progress and development so that Historic Anniversaries of Today—1691—George Fox died at 67. Son of a weaver and himself an apprentice shoemaker when he was 11, at 19 he felt the call to save the young from their sins which caused him to go forth and preach a religion which resulted in the establishment—without his intending it—of a new church, the Society of Friends, or "Quakers". His insistence upon the personal aspect of religious experience made it impossible for him to countenance the organization of a clergy or the setting apart of edifices for divine worship, and caused his imprisonment many times for "blasphemy". The Pilgrims, who set up Massachusetts colony to enjoy religious freedom, drove out Quakers. In the U. S. today are about 110,000 Quakers including ex-President Hoover and famed Marine Smedley Butler.

Historic Anniversaries of Sunday—1639—The first popular written constitution in America was drawn up in Hartford, Connecticut colony. It was framed by representatives of the towns of Hartford, Weathersfield and Windsor, provided for equal representation from each town in a common council.

1794—The first successful Caesarian operation in America was performed by Dr. Jesse Bennett in Virginia upon his own wife, after another surgeon had refused to undertake it because of the slight chance of success. Dr. Bennett operated, assisted by two negroes who held the patient (there were no anesthetics in those days) upon a table made of planks across two barrels. (Moet recent Caesarian exploit of surgery: successful delivery of a living child an hour and a half after the mother's death.)

1907—Simultaneously with extraordinary volcanic activity at Etna and Vesuvius in Italy and Mauna Loa in Hawaii, an earthquake destroyed Kingston and other Jamaica towns, killing thousands.

Notables Born This Date—Benjamin Franklin, b. 1706, American statesman and philosopher.  Matthew Maury, b. 1806, who is in the American Hall of Fame because of his researches in the geography of the seas.  Marie Julien Vaude, known as Pierre Loti, b. 1856, French naval officer who became a world famous novelist.  Louis McHenry Howe, b. 1871, secretary to the president.  Hendrik Willem Van Loon, b. 1882, author of a popular history.  Felix Warburg, b. 1871, banker and philanthropist.  Bebe Daniels, b. 1901, cinema actress.

On Court House Hill

All jurors present at court this week were dismissed yesterday, the cases on the docket for trial having been completed. Another term of common pleas will convene on next Monday. Several cases were settled this week among them being that of McClurg against Alexander over a dog, and Young against the People's National Bank of Ellwood City, being a controversy over a note.

Estate of the late Mary G. Matheny, of Wayne township, is divided between her daughter, Alice A. Matheny Pappas and her son, Joseph G. Matheny, according to a will probated at the register and recorder's office. Alice A. Matheny Pappas is to get a tract of land on the Wampum-Ellwood road for the term of her natural life, and at her death it is to go to her children absolutely. Joseph G. Matheny is to get the property embraced in the old Rock Point picnic grounds, with certain royalties from sand and gravel on the first mentioned tract. Letters testamentary have been issued to Joseph G. Matheny.

Attorney W. W. Stevenson, who handles farm loans in Lawrence county is heartily in favor of having farms of the county platted, the same as city lots. He says that considerable trouble is encountered in getting accurate descriptions of farms, owing to the fact that many of the old land marks are missing. Frequently it is necessary to have a farm surveyed, as the government is very strict in getting accurate descriptions for farm loans.

Arthur Wright of Mahoning township, a member of the jury this week, says that there are a number of farmers in his section who have offered indigent persons all the coal that they can dig for their own use, but there is a growing indisposition to do the digging. Some of those who are needing coal prefer to let the county furnish it, he says, and place it in the coal houses.

Mrs. Margaret Granitz has filed an application for divorce from her husband, John Granitz, on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. The couple were married in March, 1918 and lived together until November, 1933.

In the estate of the late Mary Blews of this city letters testamentary have been issued to her sons, William, Richard and Charles Blews. To her three sons she leaves each one-fourth of her estate, the remaining one fourth is to be equally divided between the five children of her deceased daughter, Mrs. Ruth E. Tece.

Motion for judgment for want of an appearance was granted at court in the case of Chas. Bernine against E. Logan Black.

Building bridges was more of a problem in "Ye olden time," than it is now. It was not then a question of cement or steel. It was how to get the "long green" that worried. The first permanent bridge on East Washington street was built largely through subscriptions raised among residents about August, 1827. It was a covered structure, the greater part of the frame work hewed timbers from surrounding woods. Prime movers in the project were Jesse DuShane, Wm. Young, Anzi Semple and J. T. Boyd.

If it should develop that a workhouse is to be built by Lawrence, Butler, Mercer and Venango counties, it is likely that a strong effort will be made to have it located in Lawrence county, as this county could provide a central location.

One of the improvements which the new court house will bring will be better accommodations for mixed juries. At the time the present court house was re-modeled woman suffrage had not yet come into style, and such a thing as women serving on a jury, was probably never dreamed of. Consequently the jury rooms are not provided with separate wash rooms which are very essential in these days of powder puff and lipstick.

funeral of her cousin, Miss Zeigler of Ellwood, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelley and sons Charles and Merle of New Castle called on Miss Harriet Stickle, Saturday.

Russell Allison accompanied Paul Allison on a business trip to New York City, and is spending a few days there.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McConnell and family of New Castle were dinner guests Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Book.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nelson and Oscar McCormick spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Thompson and son Tommy of Sharon. Tommy recently underwent a throat operation and is improving nicely.

Dull Market At Opening Today And Stocks Fail To Get Very Far

STEEL IS IN FAIR DEMAND

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The stock market was dull today and failed to get very far in either direction. Commodities markets with the exception of cotton were listless and inclined to work lower. Cotton gained 50 cents a bale at the start, but wheat was barely steady slightly under yesterday's close and silver lost about one-quarter cent an ounce.

Chrysler was again an unsettling influence on the list as further pressure was exerted against it. Opening at 51 it moved down to 50 1/2 before meeting support and then ran up about half a point apparently on short covering. Other motor shares were in fair demand.

New York Central, Atchafalaya and other leading rails continued to be firm front while they held their own.

Consolidated Gas and other utility shares were steady but failed to get anywhere on the upside in the face of week-end profit taking and the general nervousness in other sections of the list.

United States Steel and other industrial shares were in fair demand and advanced moderately. Specialty shares were quiet, but chemicals heavy under the influence of Allied Chemical while declined about 1/2 point. Gold mining and liquors held in a narrow range.

Local Girls Lose

Local And New Castle Girls Put Up Good Fight; Final Score Is 39-16

FRISCO A. C. BEATS WARREN PASSERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 13.—Living up to every expectation, a fast and clever McKenzies of Youngstown, world's champion girls' basketball team, trimmed a combination of former Ellwood and New Castle high school girls at the Shelby auditorium last night. The final score was 39-16.

In the first preliminary of the evening the Frisco Reserves defeated the Ewing Park Mystics 27-12. The Frisco team took control of the game early and never lost the lead.

The secondary preliminary game was a thriller as the fast Frisco A. C. passers defeated Warren 40-34 in a hard fought game. After a bad start the Frisco cagers soon began clicking and by the end of the first period were ahead 16-9. This was all the incentive they needed for the local team was out in front at the end of every period, but never a commanding lead. The count was 24-17 at half-time and 31-28 at the end of the third quarter. The final chapter was full of thrills as one team would forge to the front and then the other. Two baskets in a row when Warren was one point behind put the Frisco cakers out in front to stay, as the game was nearly over.

The world of Arnold, Patterson and Boone was one of the outstanding features of the game. These three figured in the scoring heavily. Williams and Crawford were best for the losers.

Nearly a capacity crowd turned out to see the two good girl teams in action last night, and were pleased with the performance given them.

Sustie Sponseller thrilled the audience with her uncanny ability to register field goals nearly every time she had the ball. Of the 39 points she obtained 20. The local and New Castle combination were at no time a match for the world champions.

Miss Heinline, Miss Schultz and Miss Creed turned in fine performances for the winners. For the local team Miss Blazin, Miss Dudick and Miss Cowmadow were outstanding.

"Convention City"College Paper Observes
Fiftieth Anniversary

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 13.—Commemorating its fiftieth anniversary, the Westminster Herald, student weekly newspaper at Westminster College, issued this week a special six-page edition. The publication was founded in 1884. One of the founders, and the first editor, was Dr. Robert J. Love, head of the department of Bible at Westminster from 1921 to 1932.

The special edition contains a feature story dealing with the name of the paper in which it is pointed out that the Greek myth dealing with the search for the golden fleece gave the publication its name. The yearbook, the Argo, was also named from this same source.

Historical sketches, a feature quoting choice and naive excerpts from early editions, an editorial reviewing the 50 years of history, a short sketch of the first editor, writeups of the present members of the editorial and business staffs, and general college news are also included.

Harold Polonus, Sharon, a member of the senior class, is the present editor. His staff includes Ebbas Sizer, Sharon, managing editor; Helen Louise Taylor and Theresa Burgoon, Sharon, associate editors; Maurice Michmerhuizen, Grand Rapids Mich., and Alan Van Harper, Zelenople, sports editors; Robert N. Jones, Sharon, business manager; Grace Kelly, West Middlesex, assistant business manager; and George McGeech, Cambridge, N. Y., circulation manager; Professor R. X. Graham, who has charge of courses in journalism, is faculty advisor, a position he has held for the last nine years.

The Herald this year won second place for editorials and editorial policy among college and university newspapers in the East. A certificate denoting "distinguished recognition" has been sent the publication by the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association.

Started as a bi-monthly publication, issued in magazine form, the paper has changed in format and size a number of times. For many years it was a monthly publication, but for the last 15 years has been a weekly publication. In 1884 when the paper was founded the college had an enrollment of 270. The enrollment is now 675. The circulation now is 1,200.

Four towns have been the scenes of printing the publication. During its 50 years the Herald has been printed in Mercer, New Castle, Pittsburgh, and New Wilmington. It was changed this year into a five-column four-page tabloid after having been a six-column paper for more than 12 years.

Especially fitting at this time is the announcement that a chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, will be installed at Westminster on January 27. The Herald has, this week, been given an office in Old Main Memorial building.

Bogus Marriage License Sought*Woman Asks Alderman For Bogus Wedding Certificate,
So She Can Adopt Child

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 13.—A letter from a Brooklyn woman, who formerly lived in Johnstown, requesting Alderman Edward E. Leveque to issue her a bogus marriage license was under police scrutiny today. The letter was signed by Margaret Burkhard who requests the license so that she could adopt a child. In addition to containing the illegible name of a man who was to play the role of husband, the letter requested the license be dated back about four years.

Livengood said that a woman by the name of Margaret Burkhard left here for New York about eight months ago. In return for her aid in enabling him to apprehend a bail jumper at one time, the alderman said he had promised to render her assistance at any time.

Urge County Nurses
To Register Quickly*Possible CWA Nursing Project
May Benefit Them; Plans
Not Known

Lawrence county's graduate nurses, now unemployed, will have until next Tuesday evening to register for an anticipated CWA nursing project, Mrs. Julia Hrdina, directress of nurses at the Jameson Memorial hospital, where the registration is taking place, announced today.

The registration, opened so as to assure prompt cooperation with CWA officials should the project break, was to have closed today.

Nurses who are registered in Pennsylvania and who seldom have cases—not necessarily the ones registered for 1934—are those who will benefit from the federal-aid project.

Mrs. Hrdina states. Anxious to determine if the 1934 registration was a requirement, she wired Miss Netta Ford, Harrisburg, chairman of the state committee on nursing care for the recipients of federal relief.

For an answer, and Miss Ford telegraphed this reply today: "1934 registration is necessary only if nurses are applying for nursing work."

Mrs. Hrdina reported today that Thursday's and Friday's registration was very light.

The Jameson hospital office is being used to relieve congestion which would exist if the registration were being conducted at the Federal-

State Employment office in the Johnson building. That office however is sponsoring the registration.

STEAL GAS, ROBE
Mrs. Floyd Reid, 838 East Linton street, reported that someone drained the gasoline from a guest's car last night and also stole a valuable auto robe.

Deaths from bee stings are not uncommon, one state recording three deaths and another two from this cause a year.

Weirton Steel N. R. A. Dispute Big Test Case

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The NRA labor advisory board's dispute with the Weirton Steel Co. of Pittsburgh has risen in importance in the eyes of the administration to where it is regarded as one of the major NRA test cases.

Involving as it does one of the vital principles of the industrial recovery act—the right of labor to bargain collectively with employers—the controversy has been the subject of lengthy conferences at the White House, and the end is not yet in sight.

Chairman Robert Wagner of the advisory board, who is also a Democratic senator from New York, feels the steel company should be prosecuted as a result of its recent employees' election of representatives. Charges that this election was carried out by a company, rather than by an independent union, brought on the dispute and a thorough investigation of the affair by justice department operatives.

President Roosevelt has apparently advised Attorney General Cummings to proceed in the matter as he sees fit, and that he, the president, will not interfere. Mr. Roosevelt went over the whole case in a long conference with Cummings, Wagner, Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson and Secretary of Labor Perkins.

New Castle High Defeats New Brighton 29-28

Ridley-Reiber Win Game For Locals In Last Few Seconds

Thrilling Game Is Taken By New Castle In Opening Of Section Three

Kelly, Battley And Komicin All Aid Bridenbaughmen To Victory

Archie (Merriwell) Ridley and Captain Lester "Bus" Reiber pulled an Al-fanso and Gaston act at New Brighton last night and consequently pulled New Castle through victorious in the final 25 seconds of play to win 29 to 28 for the first victory of the season in Section Three for the 1933 champions. No basketball game in many years has carried the thrills that the encounter last evening unfolded. It was a nip and tuck see-saw battle from start to finish. Ridley shot two fouls and Reiber one with about 2,500 howling screaming almost insane fans hanging onto their seats. And then it was all over. As close a finish as one could ask for from the two splendid floor machines. A game that will be lived and re-lived many times in the minds of those who were fortunate enough to be present at beautiful Dawes gym.

"Boner" Loses Game
New Brighton pulled the prize boner of the century when with 25 seconds left to play and leading 28 to 26 the New Brighton captain Moulter asked for time-out. Ridley was already at the foul line ready to attempt two charity throws and the timers watch was ticking off the seconds faster than you can bat an eyelash. It looked like a deadlocked game if Ridley could drop those two throws through the hoops which seemed to be dancing before his excited eyes. Moulter of New Brighton asked Referee Waiter for time-out. He overlooked one important fact, that New Brighton already had three times out, which is the allotted number, according to the rule makers. Referee Waiter promptly awarded New Castle a technical foul. Captain Reiber was given the ball.

Fouls Drop In
There was a hushed silence in the spacious gym as the wild-eyed fans waited breathlessly for time to be resumed. The last hour at Sing Sing's death house it seemed. But it was only one minute or maybe it was two. Anyway to make it short Reiber took the ball from Ridley and stepped to the foul line. His accuracy was perfect the ball hardly ruffled the net as it dropped through. One point for New Castle. Ridley was next. New Castle needed one point to tie the game up in knots or would Lady Luck be good just this once and cause Ridley to win the game. It took a couple of game hearts for Ridley and Reiber to stand out there and throw those fouls through the hoops when it meant so much. Just a couple of game youngsters.

Tied First Quarter
The battle started out like a death struggle with New Brighton taking the lead only to see New Castle creep up on even terms with them at the end of the first period. Kelly, Battley and Komicin were correct in this instance. Ridley's aim was unerring. Both of his foul tries fell through the hoops. That last one, the one that really did the business, sort of did a "Hotcha" dance on the hoops for barely a fraction of a second and then dropped through. New Castle won the game. It took a couple of game hearts for Ridley and Reiber to stand out there and throw those fouls through the hoops when it meant so much. Just a couple of game youngsters.

New Castle Opens Up
New Castle snapped out like a second period and made things more interesting for the Pa. Newicians. The Bridenbaughmen scored 11 points in the second stanza and held New Brighton to five, thus making the score at the end of the first half New Castle 19, New Brighton 13. It looked as if the locals were in the money. Not one of the fans at the game could have guessed what was to transpire in the second half. Even at the end of the third quarter there was no hint of the sensations to come. New Castle held a lead of 26 to 18 as the third period closed. It looked more than ever like the goods. Surely New Castle would win handily. New Brighton could only get five points in the third period. All long shots, not once did the Roarkeens score under the basket. Reiber, Kelly and Komicin were seeing to that part of it in great style.

Fireworks Start
In the fourth and final quarter New Castle was evidently playing a strictly defensive game. They had the lead and they had been coached to hold onto it. Keep the ball as long as possible. But it seemed that every time New Brighton got the ball in the fourth quarter they scored. Fields was the "big Bertha" in this respect. This chap hung up three field goals as his share of the scoring. He also wrecked the works. He was uncanny. So was Capo. With three minutes of the game left to play the score stood at 26 to 24 with New Castle leading.

Did New Brighton like that? Does anyone like a kick in the pants? Then the fun started. Capo pulled the score up to 26-26 with a long shot. Fields put New Brighton ahead 28 to 26 with a shot from the middle of the floor. The whole business was beginning to be unsavory for the local sons. Well, if you have read this yarn so far you know what occurred. No use going into that again. New Castle hauled it out of the coals, just seconds before it would have been too late.

Nice Work, Archie
It was a tough one for New Brighton to lose. The valley team fully expected to knock the frosting off the New Castle cake. They wanted revenge for last year's two setbacks. No disgrace to lose like New Brighton did. They battled gamely, but were unequal to the task of keeping the New Castle team in place. New Castle just wouldn't stay put. Archie Ridley will soon be leaving New Castle high, but he will never forget that foul try that danced and danced on the rim and then fell through.

New Castle Reserves Win
In the preliminary warm-up, the New Castle high reserves with Harry Tuscano, Jimmy Goodchild, Miles Pratt and Nigro starting took a 39 to 12 romp over the New Brighton high reserves. It was a worthy victory for the scrubs. They played superior basketball and deserved to win. High-scoring honors went to Pratt with 11 points and to Miles with 9 points. The New Brighton team scored only twice from the floor. That speaks volumes for the guarding game put up by Tuscano, Fleming and Stevenson. It was 16 to 9 New Castle at the first half, with New Castle piling up 23 points in the final half.

Unionites Take 35 To 26 Victory In County League Game At Mt. Jackson

BORON-SCHAAS STAR FOR UNION

That old county league dope bucket was twisted into a different shape last night at the Mt. Jackson High floor when the Union High team emerged with a 35 to 26 victory in the first test of the year for the Boydmen in the county league.

Union led all the way. The score at the half favored Union 18 to 12. Boron and Schaas were the scoring stars for Union.

Union kept one eye peeled on this chap Thompson and held him down to four field goals and that tells the story. Schaas, who opposed the best lanky Mt. Jackson center scored six field goals himself. At the end of the first period Union led 13 to 8.

Subs Get Chance
In the fourth and final period of the game Coach Dave Boyd sent in his second and third string players and Union piled up ten more points, while they allowed Mt. Jackson to score a like number.

Union was off color from the foul line, making but five out of eleven, while Mt. Jackson caked but seven out of fourteen.

The victory was quite unexpected as Mt. Jackson hoped to walk away with the championship this year, but the Boydmen changed their minds last night.

Union's next game will be with Slippery Rock at the Union High gym next Wednesday evening. This is a Section 18 league game.

Slippery Rock Plays Tonight At Westminster

Titans Will Present Revised Line-up In Home Contest Tonight

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 13.—With a revised lineup and with a determination to break into the winning column again following a setback at the hands of the great Duquesne team, Coach John Lawther's Westminster college five stacks up against the Slippery Rock passers on the home floor tonight at 8:15.

The Teachers defeated Thiel on Wednesday night by a 35-33 score, and will present a lineup here, should press the revised Titan five to the limit. Tatala, star quarterback on the great Slippery Rock grid team, is a forward on the court team, and Lawther has warned his men to keep this particular high-scoring ace well guarded. The guard positions will be held down by Wilhelm and Hunneke unless Lawther decides at the last minute to start Franklin at guard. Tonight's contest will be the first between the two schools on the hardwood court since 1929. A large crowd of Slippery Rock followers is expected for the contest.

State Lags In Highway Work

Have Only Used Two-Thirds Of Money Available In Public Works Fund

SOME STATES ARE AHEAD OF QUOTA

By ARTHUR C. WIMER, Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Pennsylvania seems to be lagging a bit in the awarding of highway contracts under public works funds. As of January first, the Keystone state had awarded road contracts calling for 66.7 per cent of its public works highway allotment, the Bureau of Public Roads reports. Sixteen states had contracted for greater percentages of their appropriation. One state, Kansas, had contracted for 100 per cent of its allowance.

The 48 states as a group, however, had awarded contracts calling for only 55.8 per cent of their combined appropriations. Ohio had contracted for 59.3 per cent of its allowance and West Virginia had awarded contracts covering 51.4 per cent of its share of the road money.

Suggest Advantage Of Building Court House Structure Of Brick

With the loan of $768,000 for the new court house approved and the project apparently headed toward certain materialization, the question of the materials to be used became a question of public interest today.

While the picture of the new court house shows it to be a stone structure, many citizens believe it could be built of brick much cheaper.

As between stone and brick the only apparent advantage of the stone is its appearance. For practical purposes brick would be just as good, and with three large brick plants in Lawrence county the resultant advantage to local labor and plant owners is readily seen.

Stone Trim

A brick building with a stone trim in the front, and perhaps around the windows, would be an attractive building and with the years of use brick buildings have had in New Castle there could be no charge honestly made that it wouldn't last. The Martin Gantz building was made of sun-dried brick, which is soft, and it stood for 80 years.

Advocates of stone might argue that Lawrence county stone could be used, but the cost of installing stone-cutting equipment would be such that some outside concern in Indiana or Ohio would be able to underbid. In the manufacture of brick the local manufacturers would have the advantage as there would be no freight charges to pay. The bricks could be trucked from the plant to the site for a small cost.

New Castle manufactured bricks have been used in many large buildings over the country.

The cost of brick would be much less than stone. The labor of making the brick would be a huge benefit to local men and the work of laying up the bricks would provide employment for scores of bricklayers. There seems to be no conclusive argument in favor of stone as against brick in Lawrence county, and with the savings that would be effected, the use of brick presents itself as the material to use.

Farm Stocks Of Wheat Increase In Pennsylvania

Are Greater Than Year Ago, In Contrast To Rest Of Nation, Report Shows

By ARTHUR C. WIMER, Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Farm stocks of wheat in Pennsylvania on January first, unlike in the nation general, were greater than on January 1, 1933, the Crop Reporting Board announces.

Wheat stocks on Pennsylvania farms totaled 6,239,000 bushels on January first as against only 5,655,000 bushels on the corresponding month of last year. Such stocks on farms of the country as a whole, on the other hand, were lower on January first than at any time since such statistics have been recorded.

Corn stocks on Pennsylvania farms on January first totaled 26,737,000 bushels as against only 23,480,000 bushels last year. Oats stocks on Pennsylvania farms, however, were materially lower, totaling only 15,136,000 bushels compared with 26,753,000 bushels in 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Williamson and children of Grove City were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Audley McClymonds on Sunday.

Mrs. Belle Kennedy, Pearl, Orris and Arthur Kennedy were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McConnell on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stunkard and daughter Shirley, of East Brook spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClenahan.

Rev. G. E. Shaffer of New Castle and Betty Boyd and Georgia Pearson were Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cover.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ashtman, Mrs. Ellis Harry, Elizabeth Ropp, Leslie Dingley, and Nellie McCready attended the Farmers' Institute at Coatsville Tuesday evening.

Carp and muskrats destroy aquatic plants, and where abundant they will seriously reduce waterfowl food.

Following the speech by Mr. Hess, the president of the club, Tommy Evans delivered a fine talk, as did William Wignall, both men thanking Mr. Hess for his fine talk and urging him to return to St. Andrews at an early date.

Rev. Black of St. Andrews also spoke briefly and thanked Mr. Hess for his talk. A light lunch was served following the speaking program.

The Shenango River quartet composed of Bill Riley, Gregor, Bender, and Phillips rendered two pleasing numbers and were well liked, being encored both times. Fred Kosei favored the club with a solo as did Mr. Wolford and Mr. Hitchen. William Evans put on a clever colored comedy sketch.

The club members promised to attend the church service at St. Andrews church next Friday night in a body. There will be special services at St. Andrews all next week.

The club will meet on Friday at 7 o'clock and march into church in a body. It is hoped that at least 50 members will be present.

AROUND CITY HALL

Croton avenue hill has been a worry for years to different councils. For a long time council endeavored to have the sidewalks fixed and only recently, it is said, the hillside property was given to the city—and now the city has another worry, a claim for $200 against it.

According to A. B. Spencer's attorney, the former was walking on the sidewalk on Croton avenue which he claims had a layer of ice covered by snow. He alleges he fell and when removed to his home had a dislocated hip. He could not attend to his work for a month. Mr. Spencer believes he is entitled to $200.

When Stanley Treser was superintendent of streets and public property he had his worries and B. F. Butler is finding out that the worries did not depart with Treser. For instance he is worried over tools. The city paid good money for them and he does not propose that any will be lost. He has assigned a man to check them out and check them in. They were bought for CWA purposes.

Were it possible for the city and property owners along the north bank of the Neshannock creek to get together it is probable another nice appearing stone wall could be built. A glance from Croton avenue across the creek does not look so nice. The former administration endeavored to arrive at an agreement and failed. The present administration may revive the subject.

Railroad company police have not yet commenced sending wanderers to concentration camps, according to a railroad policeman who brought to the city jail a man accused of riding a passenger engine. In some cases persons caught riding on railroad trains are taken before aldermen where they answer to a charge of trespassing on railroad property and are sent to the county jail. Lawrence county citizens pay the bill.

It developed in police court that a young man from New York state came here, sought a ticket to return to his home town but instead was placed on a charge of vagrancy. That is his story. Police Chief Haver believes that it would be far better to give such persons a ticket and send them on their way.

After council recently ordered about $4,000, received by the city treasurer from the two percent tax on foreign fire insurance premiums for 1931 paid over to the Volunteer and Paid Firemen one of the solons suggested that "the Volunteers could loan some money to the city."

Another wanted to know why the Volunteers couldn't "buy up the negotiable paper (wages) and earn six percent on the investment."

Police chronology for 24 hours, ending 3:30 p. m. January 12, seven arrests, three on a charge of being suspicious characters; and four on a charge of intoxication.

Local Architects Given Contracts

Will Draw Plans For Two School Buildings In Mercer County

Thayer and Company, local architects, have been given the contract for drawing the plans for two Mercer county school houses, they announce this morning.

At Stoneboro, the sum of $25,000 is to be spent for the erection of an auditorium and four class rooms to the high school. This money has been allotted by the Public Works Administration, the school district's share being secured through authorization of an $18,000 bond issue at the November election.

The architects will have the plans ready so that a contract may be awarded at an early date.

In addition, they have been authorized to draw plans and prepare specifications for the construction of a modern building at Jackson Center, to replace the present frame building. Money for this project will be asked from the Public Works Administration.

Judge Martin Is Suggested For Congress

While the gentleman himself will hardly discuss such a possibility, friends of ex-Judge J. Norman Martin are insisting that he will be drafted as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress this spring.

As to his availability they point to a long and honorable career as an attorney, services on the bench of Lawrence county and an acquaintanceship that is wide and varied in the 26th congressional district.

Judge Martin served as judge of Lawrence county by appointment of Governor Robert E. Pattison, a Democrat. Since leaving the bench Judge Martin has practiced law and recently celebrated his fiftieth anniversary in the legal profession.

If he can be induced to be a candidate there is little question that he would be a formidable opponent for any one. However they have not yet convinced the judge that he should leave the comfort of a lucrative law practice to enter the arena of politics.

LAYING FOUNDATION

Excavation for the new coal cellar at the school house has been completed and the foundation is now being laid. The building will be a decided aid to the school much trouble having been encountered in storing coal heretofore. Other CWA projects include the resurfacing of the ground about the swimming pool and the Maple street extension.

Jackie Berg Is Loser In Fight With Locatelli

Lightweight Champion Of Europe Gives Jackie "Kid" Berg Great Lacing

By HYPE IGOE, International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The white chapel windmill has gone to creaking.

Today, Jackie Kid Berg has the same old courage, the same desire to rush his man right into the seven seas, yet the pell-mell zip which made him a terror three or four years ago has just about disappeared.

Jackie lost a ten-round decision to Cleto Locatelli, lightweight champion of Europe in Madison Square Garden last night, after taking a severe body whaling.

Jackie tried to be the same head-long little savage who swept everything from his path when at his best. But the speed has fled. Berg's speed, dumbfounding in its tirelessness a short while back, has left him with only courage. That he displayed until your heart went out to him.

Frank Sinko of Morris street appeared before Alderman J. Lee Cooper, East Long avenue Friday night, charged with attacking Alderman Richard R. Lewis on Thursday night. He pleaded guilty.

Alderman Cooper fined Sinko. After paying the fine and costs, Sinko was released.
